Congregation

Congregation 10 February

Voting on a Resolution authorising the allocation of space called the Garden Land to Kellogg College

For explanatory note and full text of resolution see Gazette No 5478, 15 January 2026, p214.

NOTICE OF OPPOSITION

The following members of Congregation have given notice that they intend to oppose the resolution for the reasons set out below.

Lys Alcayna-Stevens, Associate Professor, School of Anthropology and Museum Ethnography (SAME)
 Morgan Clarke, Professor, SAME
 Thomas Cousins, Associate Professor, SAME
 Chihab El-Khachab, Associate Professor, SAME
 Cyril Grueter, Associate Professor, SAME
 Elisabeth Hsu, Professor, SAME
 Ann Kelly, Professor, SAME
 Catherine Lieben, Head of Administration and Finance, SAME
 Thomas Püschel, Associate Professor, SAME
 Madeleine Reeves, Professor, SAME

1) The explanatory note makes clear that the proposed “Garden Land” allocation is not a routine administrative allocation of amenity land. It expressly permits the construction of three newbuild graduate accommodation blocks, together with associated landscaping works, and further allocates additional land temporarily for contractor use and construction activity. This is a fundamental shift from the prior position explicitly set out in earlier allocations, under which the rear gardens associated with 2–6 Winchester Road and 47–55 Banbury Road were allocated solely as amenity land, subject to formal take-back provisions, and with a proviso that no development could be undertaken in the gardens. The present resolution reverses that settled position by authorising, for the first time, the construction of three new-build accommodation blocks on that land. It therefore represents a major change, not a routine or technical reallocation, and should not proceed via an expedited “deemed approved” route without robust and transparent scrutiny by Congregation.

2) Congregation is being asked to approve a large space allocation (per the Statute XVI explanatory note) that is explicitly tied to construction of three new buildings. However, members are not provided (within the resolution papers themselves) with the information needed to assess impacts, including: outline design parameters; construction duration and phasing; access routes, contractor logistics, traffic impacts, and storage and laydown areas; noise, vibration, dust, and working-hours assumptions; tree and biodiversity impacts in the rear gardens; how impacts will be managed while SAME remains an occupied workplace at 43 and 51–53 Banbury Road (with occupation stated to continue until the development of 25 Wellington Square completes, estimated 2029 at the very earliest); governance and accountability for mitigation, and what recourse exists if commitments are not met. In effect, Congregation is being asked to authorise an allocation that enables construction while being denied the core evidence required to evaluate consequences for staff, students, and neighbouring University activities.

3) The explanatory note explicitly states that 51–53 Banbury Road has been allocated in principle to Kellogg but remain occupied by SAME until at least 2029. The same note then proposes a “Garden Land” allocation that (a) withdraws the rear gardens of 51–53 from functional use and (b) permits construction of three new-build blocks. Major construction in this backland will predictably impose multi-year impacts on SAME’s core functions, including teaching, research, supervision, meetings, public events, and day-to-day scholarly work. SAME staff and students face the prospect of working for months and even years in a construction zone, which raises issues of welfare, accessibility, safety, noise and air pollution, and disruptions to the normal use of an academic setting. It places an unacceptable burden on a department that has already been told it may remain in situ until 2029 or later.

4) Given SAME’s continued occupancy of 43 Banbury Road and 51–53 Banbury Road, it is indefensible to proceed without demonstrated, meaningful consultation with the staff and students who will bear the consequences. The explanatory note does not evidence such consultation, nor does it describe binding protections, compensation, or operational guarantees.
